

Regulatory Compliance Application

Our Call Report application uses the same data that drives our Credit Risk and Lending Performance analysis, while tying the customer data to your general ledger.

Producing the quarterly Call Report is a major effort in banking, and after the data are assembled, they are rarely available to the bank to learn how policy and operations are influencing the results reported to the regulators. Waypoint's Call Report application decreases the time to produce the Call Report, and gives you the ability to rapidly respond to requests from the regulators. Regulators view this level of operational control favorably, and the impact it makes on them is reflected in their reviews.
